The Duck Pond:

The Duck Pond trails are great for all ages, and is well suited for young families with strollers. The observation Platform is a good area to view and feed ducks. Please don't feed the ducks bread. Bread and similar products such as crackers, chips, donuts and popcorn are a great source of carbohydrates but they offer little other nutritional value for ducks, waterfowl and other birds. In fact, bread is the equivalent to junk food for the birds, and too much bread can lead to excessive weight and malnutrition as well as many other problems. Try frozen peas (defrosted), cracked corn, barley, bird seed or other grains, or buy duck pellets from your local feed store.

High school Trails:

These trails are a bit rustic, but are suitable for walking the dog, biking, trail running, or just a nice walk. The fall colours in this deciduous forest are stunning and birds can be heard throughout. No signs are currently up, but this forested area is separated from Four Seasons Park by a chain link fence that runs North south along the eastern most trail.

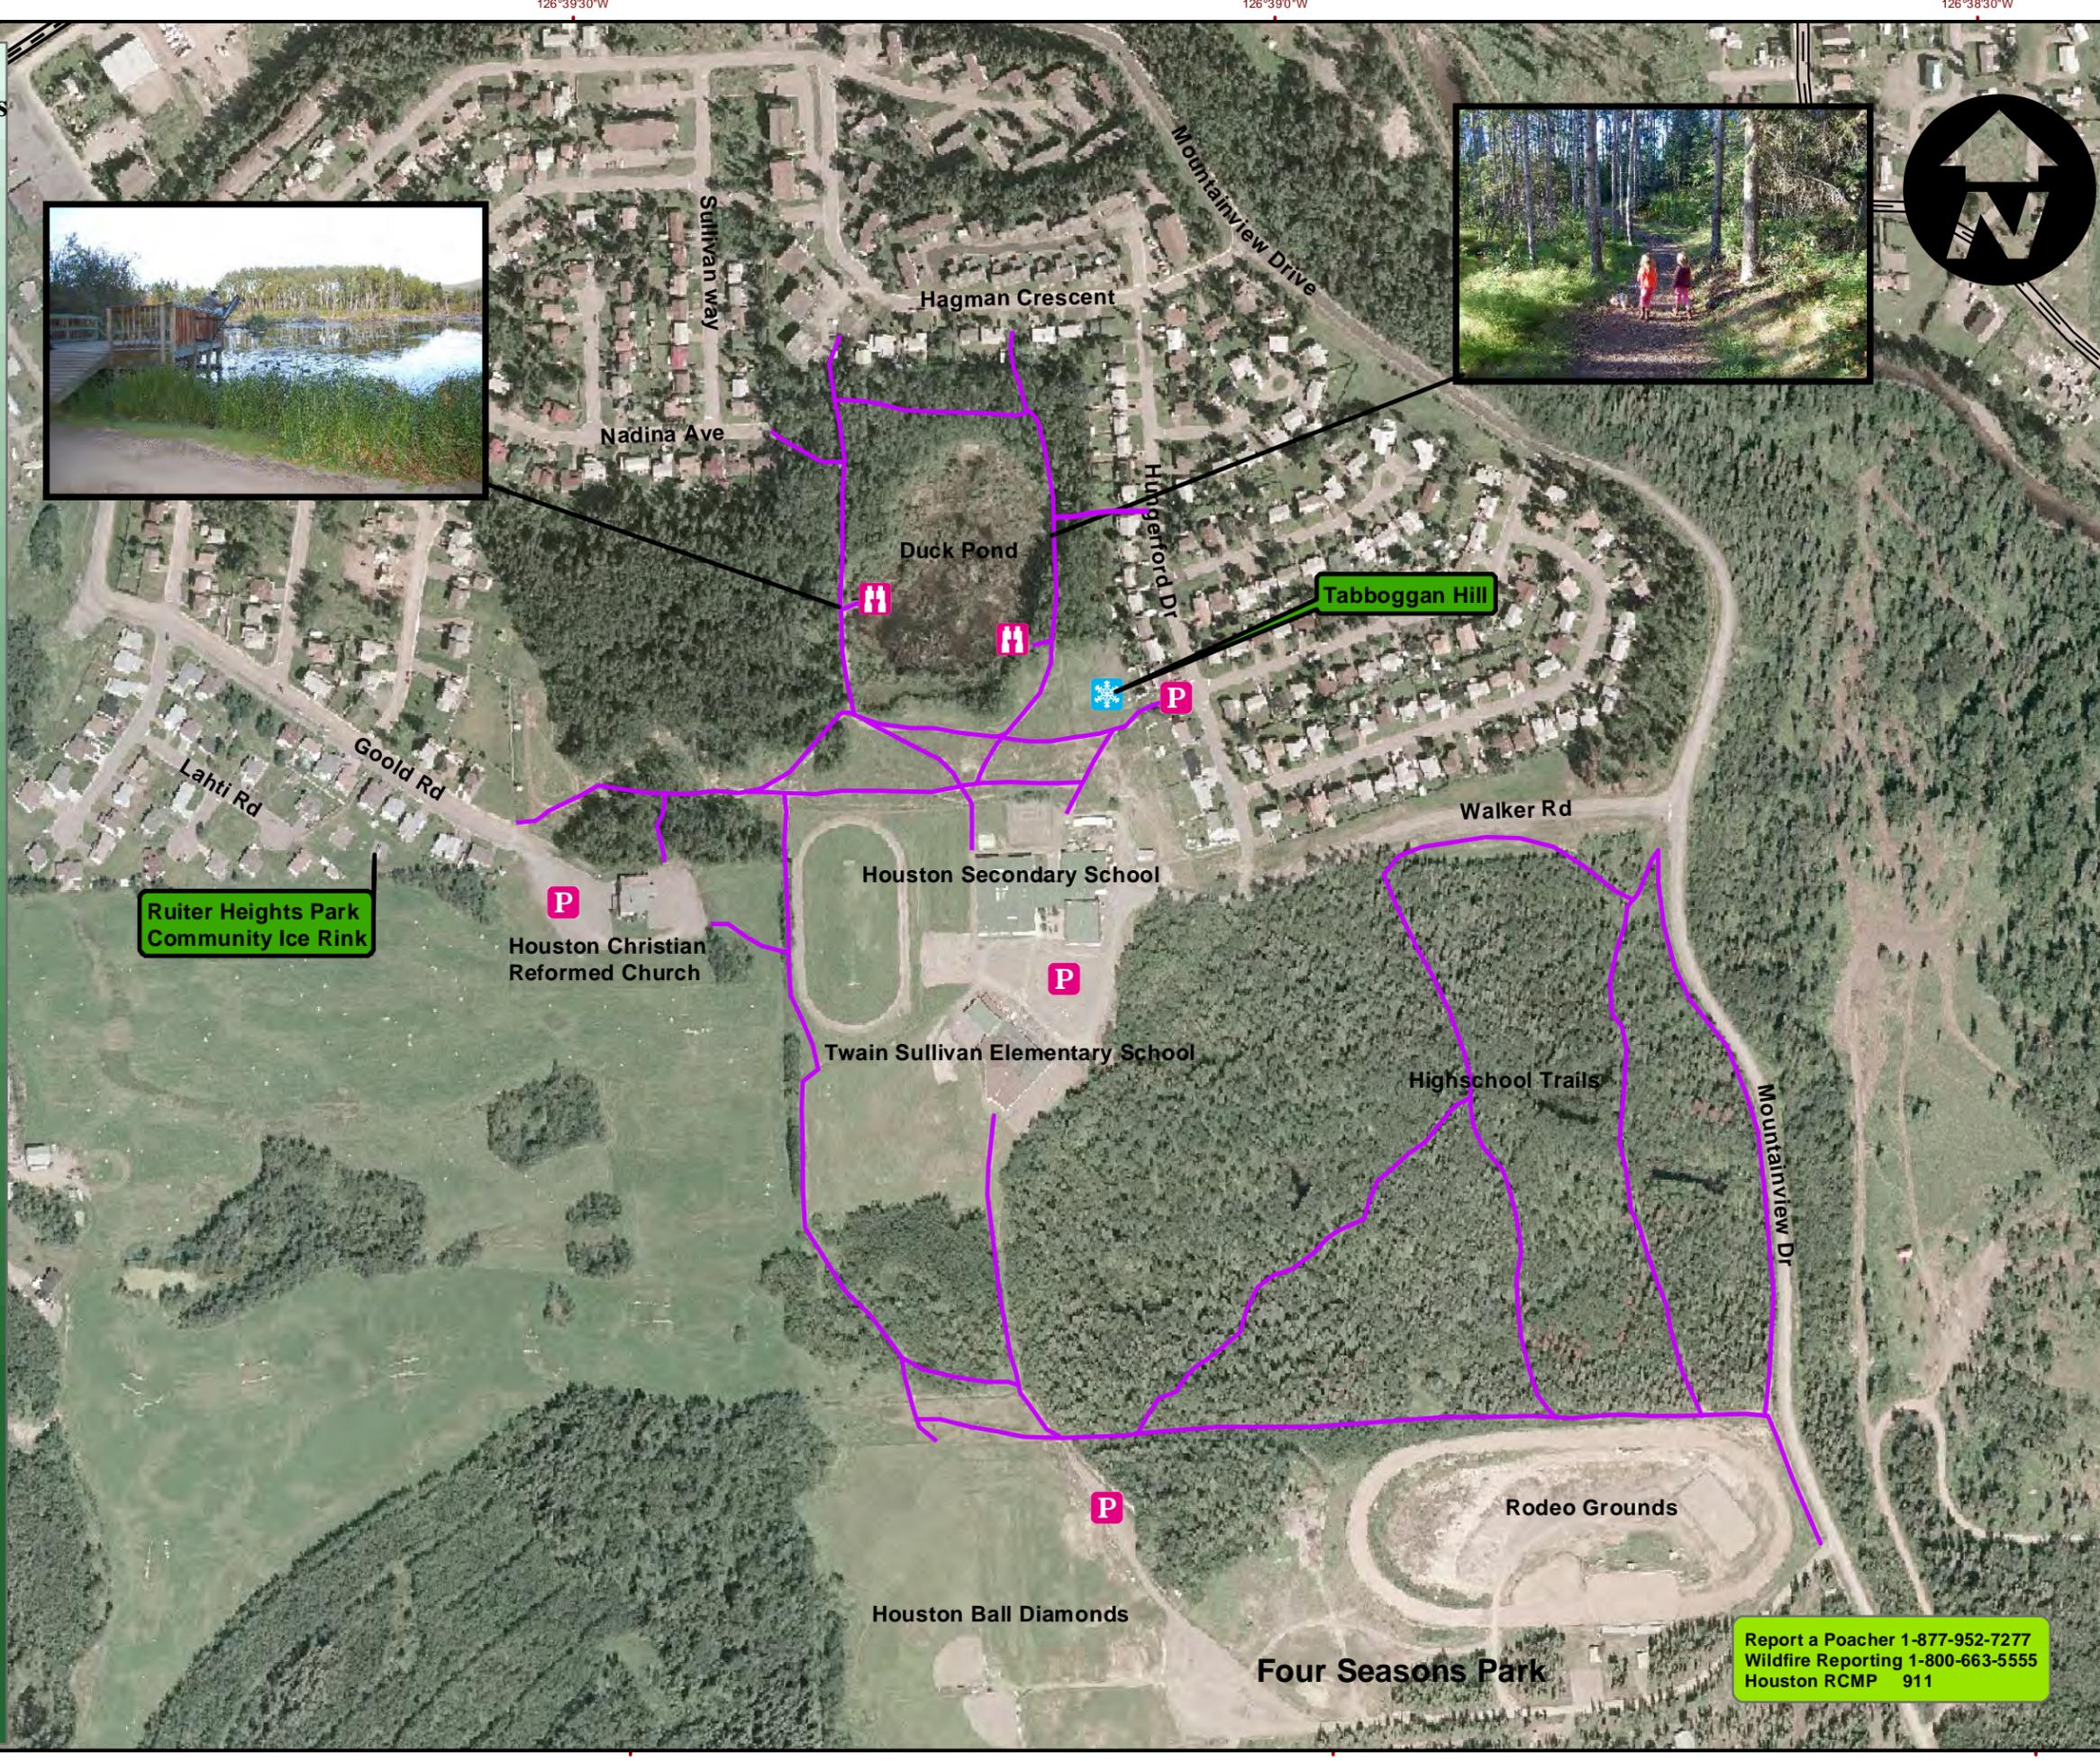

Taboggan Hill:

Between the Duck pond Trails and the Highschool is some nice rolling hills that get alot of use in the winter as a taboggan hill.
